LAWSON'S SENSATIONS.

Thomas W. Lawson is making Rome howl with his monthly contributions in Everybody's Magazine under the head of "Frenzied Finance." The January number which was put out last week is an especially "warm" one.

It contains an account of a blackmailing receivership, and incidentally makes the astonishing charge that a fund of five million dollars was raised in Wall street in 1896 for the purchase of five doubtful states for McKinley.

According to Mr. Lawson's article this fund was raised by H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Company, at the instigation of Mark Hanna, and between $300,000 and $400,000 of it was diverted from its original purpose in order to buy off a receivership for the Bay State Gas Company.

It will be recalled that Lawson, Addicks and others were heavily interested in this company, whose control they were to purchase from Rogers by Nov. 1, 1896, for six million dollars.

Everything was progressing favorably, Lawson says, when on Friday night just two weeks before the payment was due all plans were thrown in to confusion by the unexpected granting of a receivership for the company on the application of William Buchanan, who held $100,000 worth of bonds. Buchanan's attorney, Roger Foster, represented to Judge Wales of Wilmington, Del., that Addicks was dissipating the company's assets and so succeeded in having a friend, Dwight Braman, appointed receiver.

If you want something real interesting you should get the January number of Everybody's Magazine and read this article. We would like to reproduce it, but its length forbids. It recites the details of the bribery, as well as the excuses made by the Standard Oil Company for buying up the doubtful states against Bryan.

The officers and attorneys for the Standard Oil Company have threatened to both arrest and kill Lawson but he does not seem to be disturbed. Several unsuccessful attempts have been made to poison him, according to the Kansas City Star, and other leading journals, but he goes on slashing right and left without fear or mercy.

Lawson is a republican. He supported McKinley in 1896 and Roosevelt in 1904. He is "next" to everything that has been going on and knows all. Thus are the people being enlightened, and many of the things which were suspected are now being proven to be absolute facts.

Lawson's next installment will be a treatise on the copper trust.

The Beacon asks: "Is yo' all gwine to de Kansas Day club banquet in Topeka nex' mon'?"

Now that "Cassie" and "Nan" have for the moment been put on the rack, all eyes are turned on Lawson.

A fight will be made in the next republican convention to insert a plank recognizing social equality between the black and white races.

The fellow who thinks that courts and receivers high up in public affairs are too good and too honest to sell out ought to read Lawson's "Frenzied Finance" in Everybody's Magazine.

It was the Standard Oil Company, according to Lawson, that "saved the country" in 1896. It cost $5,000,000 to get five doubtful states. Oil has since advanced about five cents per gallon.

A KANSAS CITY policeman was bitten by a nigger and laid up eight weeks with blood poison. It is safe to say that if that policeman ever was converted to "social equality," that bite weakened his faith.

The Topeka Herald says that if Prof. Vernon's kinky hair could be pulled out of his pate there would be enough brain matter clinging to the roots to supply a car load of republicans who think they are too good to sit down to a table beside a colored man or hear him make a speech. If the publisher of the Herald has a marriageable daughter, it might be a golden opportunity for some big burly negro.

CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTION.

Congressman Bourke Cochran introduced on the first day of the present session a resolution and a bill dealing with a campaign contributions. The resolution provides for the appointment of a commission to be composed of judges, senators and members of congress to take testimony and report upon contributions made to the various campaign committees during the campaigns of 1892, 1896, 1900 and 1904. It is not probable that the republican party will permit the passage of any such resolution. The amount of money raised in the campaigns of 1896 and 1900 was so large and the expenditures of the campaign were on such an enormous scale that there is little danger of the republican leaders permitting an investigation into the facts.

Mr. Cochran's bill, however, being in line with the president's recommendation, may have more chance of passage. The Cochran bill provides that each contribution above fifty dollars shall be made public within three days after its receipt. The press report did not clearly indicate whether the contributions should be reported by the donor or by the campaign committee. It would be well to require the donor to file a report with the postmaster of the town in which he lives, the same to be forwarded by the postmaster and the nearest United States court. The donation should be made known at once and to provide against the possibility of having the donations made just at the close of the campaign it would be well to make it unlawful for contributions to be made so late in the campaign as to prevent the publication of the same several days before election. If, for instance, the notice of the contribution must be filed within three days after it is made, the law ought to prohibit the making of contributions within ten days of the election. It might be even better to have a longer time.

The campaign committee has established headquarters and should file a weekly report of its contributions and disbursements during the campaign. The contributions above fifty dollars should be stated specifically; the contributions below fifty dollars could be stated in a gross sum and the same rule could be followed in reporting expenses.

Now that the president has put himself on record in favor of some such law the democrats should join with him and seek to secure the very best law possible upon the subject. Mr. Cochran is to be congratulated upon having taken the initiative, and whether his bill or some other bill is adopted the democrats should insist upon immediate consideration of the subject. Some of the republican leaders will probably object to such legislation, but the democrats and the active friends of the president should together constitute a majority.—Commoner.

Cash Buyers Union Expands.

Chicago American.

The Cash Buyers' Union First National Co-operative Society has leased from Isaac F. Kubel the Industrial Building at the northeast corner of Jackson boulevard and Green street for ten years from January 1, at an aggregate rental of $370,000, being at the rate of $37,000 annually. The lease was negotiated by James H. Van Vliet, president of the union.

This is probably the largest lease ever entered into on the West Side and is certainly the largest ever made on property in that section. Construction upon the building is but a little more than begun, the walls being up one story.

The building will be eight stories and basement high and will front 126 feet on Jackson boulevard and 196 feet on Green street. It is probably the best building from the standpoint of construction that has ever been erected in that section.

The building is in reality divided into three sections, two main parts with a fire proof corridor, the latter extending through the center of the entire building from the front to the rear and from the basement to the roof, with heavy brick walls on either side, and in this corridor are the elevators and stairways. There are double fire doors at all openings, and thus tenants and occupants are in a great measure safe from panic or danger in case of fire.

After a prosperous existence of nearly twenty years the Cash Buyers' Union was rechartered sixteen months ago as a co-operative society, with a capital stock of $5,000,000 and the preferred stock has been sold extensively to the general public at the par value of $10 a share on the society's guaranty of a dividend of 7 per cent. Thus far the dividends have been 10 per cent.

Julius Kahn, who has had vast experience in the mail order business, is the president of the society. The society began business in a seven-story building in West Van Buren street but soon outgrew its quarters, and another building was secured with 65,000 square feet of floor space. Even this was not sufficient, and the present lease marks another step in the growth of the society.

The Lawrence Journal which was one of the original Hoch shouters, is now giving the governor particular fits. It declares that the same thing will happen to Mr. Hoch that has just happened to Gov. Bailey.
